

CHOBHAM RIDING CLUB CAMP

12-14 JULY 2019

The Venue

CDRC camp will be held at Boomerang Stables in Hungerford, RG17 7SD. Boomerang Stables has two surfaced outdoor arenas, both 65m x 25m perfect for show jump and flat work instruction. The cross-country schooling ground is unique in that it has been purpose built to train all levels of eventing in today's more technical form. With 40 acres of land dedicated exclusively to cross country schooling and over 100 fences aimed at providing a suitable standard of test for the true first timer right up to advanced level eventers. There are 30 temporary stables set aside for camp use which will include bedding. There is a hospitality building for food preparation including use of fridge, freezer and cooker and plenty of tables and chairs. Shower and toilet facilities are also provided.

The Instructors

Nikki Kerr (Dressage instructor) - Nikki has many years' experience having gained her AI many years ago under the instruction of Robert Pickles. After gaining her qualifications she left England to gain international experience ending up riding and teaching in Canada, America, Australia and Africa. Teaching riders and horses of all levels is something she is very passionate about and she is most well known as a Bisley and Sandown Chase PC instructor. She regularly teaches at rallies, training and Camps for the PC and attends regular conventions and training camps to keep current and fresh. Nikki herself has competed up to Novice level eventing and Advanced Medium dressage.

Sara Green (Dressage to Music demonstration) - Sara has been fascinated by Dressage to Music for very many years, finally deciding to give it a go in the early 90s. The photo shows her on Troi as My Fair lady in the L&SE DTM in costume qualifier run at the CDRC August Show in 1996. Her first compilation was made using vinyl records and a portable tape recorder. From those humble beginnings she has developed her experience to compiling music for competitors at all levels from Riding Club to International Grand Prix. Sara believes that, above all, dressage to music should be all about fun and performance and is open to anyone on any type of horse or pony. Her demonstration will use horses attending camp to give everyone an insight into how to choose music and get started.

Jamie Wright (Cross-country Instructor)- Having taken an interest in horses as a teenager Jamie was able to take his BHS AI as an eager 18-year-old and then for the next 15 years he was lucky enough to travel around the world working for many international riders from Europe, North and South America and New Zealand, constantly being inspired and learning along the way.

Eventually it became time to settle down and he started to teach and ride freelance, mainly working with young or difficult horses. Jamie has been very fortunate to ride for some very supportive owners and have a great selection of clients that he enjoys teaching.

During the 2015 event season Jamie competed to FEI and advanced level and achieved a lifetime's ambition to ride at the British Championships around the advanced course at Gatcombe.

Jamie tries to give something back to his sport so from the start of 2013 he has been sponsoring grass roots riders, having helped several riders complete their Wobbleberries Challenge and he's qualified as an Accredited British Eventing Coach.

Jade Hyatt (Show jumping instructor) - Jade is a BHS AI and competed up to BE intermediate and CCI* eventing when she was 20. Since then she has suffered from different injuries and illnesses. This coincided with the loss of her horse and left her with a lack of confidence with her riding. Over the past ten years she has built this back up, winning several BE events and having a horse ready to step back up to these levels in 2019.

She uses her own experiences with confidence issues as a strength with her teaching as she can fully understand what it is like to have lost confidence and to be nervous and how to build it back up again. She enjoys working with all types of horses and riders, from beginners to competition riders, building on confidence and making sure they come out of each session having learnt something, but most importantly, having enjoyed time with their horse, coming out smiling.

This year she has also been lucky enough to be one of only 24 coaches in the UK to be selected onto Charlie Unwin's six-month Psychology for Equestrian Coaches course starting in 2019! Jade is also a fully qualified Personal Trainer, Sports Massage Therapist and an Exercise Referral Specialist working towards her Biomechanics qualifications in 2019.
